Lathrop Family

PREFACE

When, at our Centennial reunion in 1934, I was requested by members of the Lathrop family attending that celebration, to compile and publish the rather sketchy information regarding the Lathrop genealogy that I had collected for that occasion, the task seemed impossible. For many, many years, no records had been kept by any member of the family, and the valuable book written by the Rev. Mr. Huntington, compiled the record of our branch only to about a hundred and fifty years ago. The compiling, however, which occupied a four-year period, became a labor of love as research uncovered an ancestry of which we may all be justly proud. And today, even more than ever, it seems to me, when whole peoples and nations are forgetting pride of heritage, love of forefathers, and the principles of honor and godliness that alone found a great country and a noble people. It is with the hope that the lives of those who inherit the Lathrop blood may be enriched and blessed by this knowledge that this genealogy is published.

Any data omitted from this book has been impossible to obtain. Space has been afforded you for the individual carrying on of this work so that in the future complete records may be kept by each family from the present on. Although this book was completed August 15, 1938, circumstances over which the author has had no control have prevented its publication until now.

I am deeply indebted to all of you who have cooperated with data, encouragement and by financial assistance. Especially am I indebted to Winona Gibbs for her invaluable aid in obtaining the genealogy of the Lucian B. Lathrop branch. My sincere thanks to you all.

Acknowledgement is here-by made of the help given me by the Toledo, Ohio Public Library; Detroit, Michigan Public Library; New York City Public Library; many town and village clerks; and to the following publications from which information has been obtained: Governor Winthrop's Journal; Rev. Huntington's LO-Lathrop Genealogy; The Otis Historical Records; biographies of Israel Putnam; Putnam Genealogy compiled by Eben Putnam and the Fulton and Lucas County Histories.

While it is true that our earliest American ancestor was numbered among the Independents, or Puritans, whose thought and lives are widely at variance with the thinking of the present day, we must acknowledge the sterling characters that were of great service in forming the foundations of our commonwealth and government. As we turn our eyes to the past, even this bare outline reveals the magnificent strength and courage with which our forefathers first shaped upon this continent the dream which still persists and which, please God, will never end, the dream of America forever free and strong and unafraid.

History Of The Lathrop Family

CHAPTER I

The Lo-Lathrop Family

On October 7, 1934, 154 members of the Lathrop family congregating from five states, met in the I. O. O. F. Hall in Berkey, Ohio, to celebrate fittingly the 100th anniversary of the emigration to Lucas Co., Ohio of the Ohio founders of the Lathrop family, Pliny, Lucian B. and Arunah. The occasion also marked the 300th anniversary of the arrival in America in the Griffin of the family's earliest American ancestor, the Rev. John Lathropp, that eminent scholar and minister of the Gospel, in 1634. With sincere reverence and praise the living members of the family of Lathrop honored with song and speech those upright and distinguished ancestors whose record has proven them men and women living decent, law-abiding lives; courageously living according to the light God had given them; fighting honorably for their country in war; living honorably for her in peace. We find them courageous in defending their rights from dissolute monarchs, living bravely their own beliefs regardless of the consequences that might befall their earthly estates. They lived loyally, kindly, true to their families, their communities, their country, themselves and their God.

In their honor, a large and attractively decorated birthday cake prepared by Frances Lathrop Eley was cut by the oldest member present, Laurissa Lathrop Dings, 85. She died two years later, Feb. 29, 1936. Decorations of autumn flowers, yellow candles and handsome place cards made an attractive setting for the dinner and program that followed.

The three brothers were toasted in song by their descendants, Arunah being toasted as follows:

Should old relation be forgot
And never brought to mind
We'll sing a toast to them today
And of the ties that bind.

There was a Lathrop had three sons
The records all agree
Arunah was the oldest one
A fine character had he.

Dr. A. B. Lathrop, the oldest living representative present of the Arunah branch responded as follows: "Very little is known about Arunah B. Lathrop. It is however certain that he and his brother Lucian B. followed his brother Pliny to Ohio, arriving with his wife and children in 1835. A copy of discharge from the army is preserved in the family, dated May 1, 1814. It states that Arunah was born Feb. 9, 1793 and that at 21 years of age he was 5 feet and 8 inches tall; had light hair and blue eyes; that he was born in Bethel, Vermont and was by occupation a farmer. He served one year and 9 days, the full period of his enlistment, in the company of Capt. E. Burnaps, Regiment of M. S. Infantry and was honorably discharged.

Arunah B. Lathrop, son of John and Azubah (Putnam) Lathrop was born Feb. 4-9, 1793 in Bethel, Vermont. He died in March, 1870, and is buried in Berkey cemetery. His mother, Azubah, died Oct. 18,

1855, at the age of 88 years, 7 months, and 22 days. Arunah married Lucy Chamberlain of Banard, Vermont, on Dec. 9, 1819. They had 5 children, Azro, Clark, Lucian B., William, and Susan. Susan was born in 1829 and died in Chautauqua County, New York, in 1835. Arunah was a Democrat, a constable, a road supervisor in 1840, and a trustee. In 1849, he was a member of the County central committee. He acted as delegate to the nominating conventions for the Democratic party. He helped organize Richfield Christian Church, and was a township treasurer."

Toast to Lucian:

Now Lucian was the second son
And he was kind and true
And courage marked his actions here
In all he found to do.

George Lathrop, representing the descendants of Lucian B. said: "Lucian Bonaparte Lathrop, son of John and Azuba (Putnam) Lathrop, was born in Royalton, Vermont, July 18, 1800 where he remained until he married Pamelia Cleveland on Oct. 10, 1822. He moved from there to Pike, Allegheny Co., New York. He was engaged in hotel keeping and acted as deputy sheriff for 12 years. He came to Ohio in 1834, purchasing land from the government in Richfield township, Lucas, Co., Ohio. He established a home in the wilderness with neighbors no nearer than four miles. In 1848 he moved to the village of Sylvania. Lucian B. and Pamelia were the parents of eight children. There were: Mary Ann b. Jan 3, 1824, d. Dec. 15, 1900; George b. Apr. 14, 1825, d date unknown; Lorenzo b. May 12, 1827, d. Apr. 19, 1910; Luther b. Oct. 18, 1829, d. Mar. 20, 1900; Miles b. Oct. 7, 1831, d. Oct. 30, 1900; Jerome J. b. June 30, 1836, d. Jan. 10, 1910; Helen b. Feb. 15, 1839, d. Feb. 12, 1913; Wilson b. Apr. 18, 1842, d. Aug. 7, 1864. Pamelia died on Aug. 4, 1844 at the age of 42.

Lucian B. erected the first frame barn in Richfield Township in 1837. He was trustee and treasurer of the township and the first postmaster at Berkey, Ohio, where for fifteen years there was a weekly mail. In 1841, he was a delegate to the Democratic State Convention. In 1852 he was elected a representative to the Ohio State Legislature.

In his younger years, Lucian B. was a farmer. In 1848 he moved to Sylvania. He married Larissa Titus, who was born in 1806 and died Aug. 3, 1878, age 72 years. He was ordained a minister of the Universalist Church and preached for ten years. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge and was Worshipful Master in 1856, taking office on October 23. In 1848 he was one of the promoters of the Toledo and Indiana plank road, one of the most noted roads in history, and said to be the first plank road in Ohio. He died May 10, 1873 in Sylvania, Ohio, and is buried in the Berkey Cemetery."

Toast to Pliny:

And Pliny was the last in line
His memory we'll revere
We'll ne'er forget the deeds he wrought
In spirit he is here.

Verne Lathrop was chosen to represent Pliny, who has no descendants. He said: "Pliny Lathrop, with David Hendrickson and Jacob Wolfinger can justly claim the honor of being the first white settlers in Richfield Township, all coming there in 1834. Pliny settled in the northern part of Richfield Township. Active in the Whig party in 1838, he was one of the Lucas County delegates to the young men's Whig Convention at Mt. Vernon. He helped organize Richfield Christian Church in 1855.

Among the offices Pliny held were the following: Justice of the Peace, 27 years; County Commissioner, 3 years; Co. Supt. of Schools, 3 years; Deputy Supt., 3 years; Postmaster of Richfield Township, 10 years. He was born in Windsor County, Vermont, July 21, 1805, and died Aug. 29, 1881. His first wife, Maria A. Metcalf, was born Aug. 21, 1814 and died June 11, 1870. His second wife, Eliza Ann, was a daughter of Aaron and Elizabeth (Sevea) Post. She was born in Wyoming Co., N. Y., Dec. 21, 1821. They were married in Hillsdale, Michigan, Apr. 15, 1873. His nephew and adopted son, Wilson C. Lathrop, served in Company F, 14th Regiment, Ohio Volunteer Infantry in the Civil War.

Pliny Lathrop was always greatly interested in religious work and contributed much money and effort to that cause. U. C. College found in him a friend. His favorite saying was: "I want to so live that the world will be none the worse for my having lived here." His religion, though spiritual and exalted, was thoroughly practical. On July 7, 1881 Mr. Lathrop started with a companion to visit Ohio, New York, Massachusetts and Vermont (his birthplace). He died shortly after his return on August 28."

Irma Lathrop Moorman gave a history of the Lo-Lathrop family from the earliest known beginnings to the present time. Results of this research, which extended over a period of four years will be briefly outlined in this history.

The Lathrops derive their name from Lowthorpe, a parish in Lowthorpe, Wapentake of Dickering, East Riding of York. Walter de Lowthorpe was sheriff of Yorkshire in 1292. He or another of the same name, claims before Edward I a right "which had been held by his ancestors without interruption beyond the memory of man." The "de" used before their names, indicating their origin and position, was dropped about the year 1392. In the time of Richard II, (about 1377-8) Robert de Lowthorpe was chaplain of the Lowthorpe Church, which was a collegiate church from 1633 probably built about the time of Edward III.

Our pedigree begins with John Lowthroppe, great grandfather of the Rev. John, American pioneer. Early in the 16th century, we find him living in Cherry Burton, a parish about four miles from Lowthorpe. He was, though belonging to the junior branch of the family, a gentleman of quite extensive landed estates both in Cherry Burton and elsewhere. During the reign of Henry VIII (1545) he appears on a Yorkshire subsidy roll, assessed twice as much as any other inhabitant of the parish. No record remains of his parentage or brothers and sisters, if any.

His son, Robert, succeeded to his estates, married Ellen, and left a family and property when he died in 1558.

On Dec. 20, 1584 John Lathrop was baptized in Elton, Yorkshire County, England, the son of Thomas who died in 1606. Our American ancestry begins with him. He matriculated in Queen's College, Cambridge, in 1601 and received his A. B. there in 1605 and M. A. in 1609.

Authentic records locate him next in Egerton, forty-eight miles south-east from London, a curate in the County of Kent, of a beautiful ancient church. Here he labored as long as his judgment could approve the ritual and government of the established church. But when he could no longer do this, he firmly renounced his orders and joined the cause of the Independents. In 1623 he bade farewell to his church and set out upon the path that led to exile in the new world.

In 1624 he was called to succeed the Rev. Henry Jacob, an independent minister, who after serving for eight years as pastor of the first Independent church in London resigned to go to America. To be a member of the dissenters at that time was very dangerous. Meetings were held in secret.

On April 22, 1632 when the Rev. John was meeting in a secret retreat with the members of his loyal congregation, the hounds of the law, led by the persecutor Laud, and directed by the wicked Tomlinsome, found them. Rev. John and forty-two of his people were put into fetters. Only 18 escaped. After months of imprisonment, all but Mr. Lathrop were released by the spring of 1634. "He their leader was declared too dangerous to be set at liberty. It was felt that his words and his example had already more impeached the peace of our church than the church could bear. His genius will still haunte all the pulpits in ye country where any of his scolers may be admitted to preach."

During these months, his wife became sick and died. Just before her death, the Rev. John was permitted to visit her and "commended her to God by prayer, who soon gave up the Ghost." At his return from prison "his poor children, being many, repaired to the bishop at Lambeth and made known to him their miserable condition by reason of their good father's being continued in close durance, who commiserated their condition, so far as to grant him liberty, who came over into New England."

Suffice it to relate that it tells on page 41 of Gov. Winthrop's Journal under date of Sept. 18, 1634 "The Griffis and another ship now arriving with about 200 passengers, Mr. Lathrop and Mr. Seins, two godly ministers coming in the same ship."

He and that portion of his London congregation that had accompanied him settled at Scituate, Mass. on Sept. 27, 1634. Here, willing hands quickly built a home for his family. That he was still a widower, is probable, from records in his own handwriting, but from records of his church made by himself in 1635 we learn of his wife. All we know about her is that her name was Anna and that she was the mother of all the children born in this country.

Although according to all available reports his ministry was most happy in Scituate (records are preserved in Yale library) we find that "Mr. Lothrop and a large company arrived in Barnstable, Oct. 11, 1639 bringing with them the crops they had raised in Scituate." They did not forget that the main object of their pilgrimage from the motherland was the service and glory of God. For days after their arrival, they had fasting, humiliation and prayer. On Dec. 11, they set apart a day for thanksgiving, a record of which is in existence.

In Barnstable, Mr. Lothrop built a small house and later, in 1644, a new house was built for him. The original house remains and is now occupied for a public library.

From the works of Mr. Otis, a writer on American pioneer life, we learn that the Rev. John was distinguished for piety, business acumen and as an independent thinker with opinions in advance of his time. Mr. Otis says Barnstable was more indebted to him than to any other."

Mr. Lothrop fearlessly proclaimed in Old England and in the New the great truth that man is not responsible to his fellowman in matters of faith and conscience. Differences of opinions he tolerated. During the fourteen years that he was pastor of the Barnstable church, such was his influence over the people that the power of the Civil Magistrate was not needed to restrain crime. It is reported that no pastor was ever more beloved by his people and that none ever had a greater influence for good. He was placed fourth on Mr. Morton's list "of worthy ministers whom God has sent into New England."

Mr. Lothrop died in Barnstable, Nov. 8, 1653. The following which I will quote fully in spite of repetition of some of the facts, is taken from the "Cape Cod Standard-Times", March 20, 1937: "On a quiet knoll in West Barnstable stands the West Barnstable Congregational Church, said to be the oldest Congregational Church society in America. Serene and purely white of line it stands, with high above its door a sharp white steeple topped by a shining gold cock--made in England and first placed upon the steeple in 1723. In this steeple hangs one of the few bells made by Paul Revere. Around the slope of the knoll gather slim cedars to pattern the white facade with their dark tracery.

In 1625, the Rev. John Lothrop, another dissenting English Church minister, succeeded Henry Jacob and served as pastor in England for about nine years. He has been described as "a man of learning and of a meek and quiet spirit. Lowly in the dispensation of the word of God, studious of peace, and furnished with Godly contentment willing to spend and be spent for the cause and the "Church of Christ."

In the Spring of 1632, Mr. Lothrop and 42 members of his flock were arrested by an agent of Bishop Laud during a secret service in the house of a Mr. Henry Barnet. Although 18 escaped, the rest were imprisoned for two years. When they were released, Mr. Lothrop was forced to linger on in prison. A petition to the king, after all other appeals failed, was granted, but it was qualified by the order to leave the kingdom.

Accompanied by 34 faithful followers, Mr. Lothrop set sail in the ship Griffin, crossed the water, and settled in Scituate where he proceeded to establish the church all over again. Deane's History of Scituate remarks that "Mr. Lothrop with the greater part of his Church and congregation removed to Barnstable in 1639, ostensibly for the benefit of the hay grounds, i. e. the Salt Marshes, but probably with a view also to avoid the agitations which began to trouble the Church and people, on two subjects, viz., that of removing their Meeting House farther to the South part of the plantation." Some of his followers at this time are mentioned by name: Mr. William Vassal, Thomas King, Thomas Lapham, Judith Vassal, Suza King, Isaac Robinson, the son of the Rev. John Robinson of Leyden, Samuel Hinckley, father of Governor Thomas Hinckley.

Mr. Lothrop died Nov. 8, 1653 after 28 years of service to the church. The house in which he lived until his death still stands—somewhat remodeled—in Barnstable: it houses the Sturgis library."

There is no record of the location of the graves of either the Rev. John or of Samuel. It is hoped that suitable memorial tablets will be erected in honor of these two distinguished men so that their descendants may visit them as shrines in commemoration of the noble lives that are our heritage and pride.

Rev. John had fourteen children. We are descended from his sixth child, Samuel, who was born in England and came with his father to Scituate in 1634, thence to Barnstable, where he married, on Nov. 28, 1644, Elizabeth Scudder. She is reported, in Savage, as a sister to John Scudder who was in Barnstable in 1640. Samuel had met Elizabeth in Boston where he commenced his business life as a house builder, afterwards combining extensive farming operations with his building. He settled in Barnstable and was reported in 1634 as one of five Lothrops at Barnstable liable to bear arms.

In 1648 he removed to New London, Conn., then called Pequot. We find him mentioned in Gov. Winthrop's letters. He is assigned at once by his new townsmen to places of honor, being made a local judge, as was John Winthrop, and Thos. Minor, and on town committees. He received a large grant of land. A farm of 280 acres at this place remained in the family until 1735.

When in 1657, the Uncas, routed by the Narragansetts, had been chased into the fort at the head of the Nahantick and was there besieged, Lieut. James Avery, Mr. Brewster, Samuel Lathrop and others aided in the defense.

He sold his homestead in 1661 and removed to Norwich in 1668 where he acquired 400 acres of land. In the town records we find him recorded as "Constable" in 1673 and as "Townsman" in 1685. After the death of his first wife, he married in 1690, in Plymouth, Mass., Abigail, daughter of Deacon John Drone of Plymouth. She was born Jan. 29, 1632 and lived until 1734. Samuel died Feb. 29, 1700. Abigail lived to be past 100, and her 100th birthday was celebrated according to Miss Caulkin's History of Norwich. At that time Samuel had 265 descendants.

Our family is descended from Samuel's first child, John. He was baptised in Boston, Dec. 7, 1645, married on Dec. 15, 1669, Ruth, daughter of Robert Royce of New London. John and his sister Elizabeth were married at the same time by Commissioner Daniel Wetherell. The next year he built a mill for which he was granted 30 acres and later were added two grants one of 44 acres and one of 40 acres. In 1681, the entire control of the mill was put into his hands. His heirs sold the property in 1704, but to this day the meadow is called "The Lothrop Lot". He died August 25, 1688 in Wallingford. He and Ruth had 7 children. We are descended from their fourth child John.

This concludes all the biographies I have been able to collect of our branch of the family up until the past 100 years with the coming to Ohio of the three brothers. But we do know that the above mentioned John was born on May 19, 1680 in Wallingford, Conn., that he married first, Abiah, had one child Abiah, and later, on Feb. 14, 1721 married Lydia Palmetier in Norwich, Conn. They had three children. We are descended from their third child, John.

This John was born on Feb. 17, 1728 or 1729 in Norwich, Conn., and there he married Sarah Peck, daughter of Simon Peck, Uxbridge, Mass. on July 15, 1752. Sarah Peck is in the direct line of Joshua, brother of Samuel. They lived in Bethel, Vermont and were parents of ten children. Their first child, John, born Aug. 30, 1761 in Bethel, Vermont is our ancestor and my great-great-grandfather. He married Azubah Putnam, daughter of Ebenezer Putnam on Oct. 25, 1787 in Bethel Vermont. Azubah was born Feb. 26, 1767 and died Oct. 18, 1855 in Sylvania, Ohio. She is buried in Berkey, Ohio. John died July 13, 1830 in Pike, Allegany Co. New York. They were the parents of 9 children. Their second son, Araunah was my great-grandfather, and their 5th child, Lucian B. fathered the other branch of our family. Their son, Alba, born July 28, 1810 died July 26, 1866 was a lawyer in Rochester, New York. He died at the age of 56 years, Buffalo St., Rochester, New York and is buried in single grave No. 27 Row 42 in Rochester cemetery.

The question of just who was my great-great grandmother, Azubah Putnam, proved to be one of the hardest facts to trace. It was not until I had consulted the New York City Public Library that I was able to find her relationship to Israel Putnam, Brigadier-General in the Revolutionary War. Azuba's father, Ebenezer Putnam and General Israel Putnam were first cousins twice removed. The great-grandfather of Ebenezer and the father of Israel were brothers. The line of Ebenezer runs back to the first settler, John Putnam (Puttenham) of Buckinghamshire, South England and Salem, as follows:

Holyoke, Edward, Edward, Thomas, John. The Israel Putnam line includes Captain Joseph, Thomas and John. The history of this period is fascinating, but too lengthy to include in this small genealogy. I recommend that all members of our family read the contemporary history of the members of our line. In order to make such reading easier, I am including the following facts:

Biographies of Israel Putnam to be obtained from the Toledo Public Library.

Histories of the Revolutionary War; English Histories during the following reigns: King Edward IV, John Lowthroppe. He lived successfully under King Edward V, Richard III, Henry VII and Henry VIII. His son Robert died about the time Queen Elizabeth began to reign. The next generation, Thomas died while James I was on the throne of England. His son, Rev. John, the emigrant was born during the reign of Queen Elizabeth. While Charles I, that cruel, and creed-bound monarch was on the throne of England, Rev. John emigrated to America. He died in Barnstable, Massachusetts but a few years before New York was taken from the Dutch. Samuel Lathrop, his son, and our second American ancestor, lived only 10 years after the first newspaper printed in America appeared in Boston in 1690. His son, John Lathrop 3 and his wife, Ruth Royce were married while King Charles II reigned over the American colonies. His son, John Lathrop IV was married to Lydia Palmeter during the reign of George I and John and Sarah Peck were married while King George III was dictator to the Colonies.

In order to make our descent clearer I am repeating our English and American Ancestry briefly. The numbers of these same ancestors in the book written by the Rev. Mr. Huntington, 1884, on the Lo-Lathrop Family, follow:

Samuel, 7; his son John II 21; his son John III 89; his son John IV, 193; his son John V, 399 where the record ends to be continued to the present day in this history. By including these numbers to the Huntington genealogy, you may refer to this book for further family history. It is to be found in the Detroit Public Library; Boston Public Library; Norwich, Conn., Library; Newberry Library, Chicago; University of Wisconsin Library, Madison, Wisconsin, and probably in many others.
